CHROMASCOPE

THE COVER

The white cover symbolizes an era of new beginning — of a clean slate. Embossed on this background is the Austin College Crest, which expresses the nature and purpose of Austin College through the use of traditional symbols.

The form of the Crest, the “Shield of Faith,” represents the role of the College as the Church’s instrument for witness to higher education. The Open Book, or Bible, symbolizes the College’s commitment to Knowledge and the quest for Truth. The free form of the Celtic Cross evidences the College’s Christian heritage and servant’s role in the world. The Tree of Knowledge, bearing fruit on the fertile soil of the mind, witnesses to the cultivation of excellence in education at Austin College. The Sunburst, surrounding the Open Book, testifies to the energy and enlightenment that Education releases to the world through the men and women motivated by the Spirit of Austin College.

Dedicated to - - -

You are a part of the controversy on campus this year; you are the unyielding compulsory chapel; you are the ever-present counselor and friend; you are the committed one who offers meeting ground for those who believe and those who disbelieve; you are the interpreter of Christian thought and education.

You are the man, the preacher, the teacher. You are DEAN BERNARD MUNGER.

For everything there is a season and a time for every purpose under heaven

A time to look out and a time to look in . . .

A time to hang on and a time to let go . . .

A time to be young and a time to mature . . .

College is a busy time — it is a time to find one's self, not only through introspection, but also through heeding the examples of others . . . a time to ponder the whys and wherefores of ambitions and life itself . . . a time to seek opportunities for stimulation of the mind and of the soul.

College is a time in which one must realize his potential in relation to his goals, deciding which is the catalyst for his life; it is a period in his life which he can find himself in a four-year rut or else be individual enough to stand outside the rut; it is a time through which one must live, learning to really live and love life.

College is a time for forming friendships, sharing knowledge, gaining goals; it is a time for merriment and tears, traumas and dullness, fear and hope; it is a time for growing in knowledge and character, if one will but take the time.

. . . A time to break down and a time to build up

A time to discover
and a time to understand

A time to create and a time to think

A time to accept
and a time to reject

As found on the college crest, the Tree of Knowledge and the Open Book symbolize the spirit of the school and of the students as they seek wisdom and understanding. Knowledge is a means of achieving these goals, if we will but take the time.

. . . A time to seek and a time to lose

A time for self knowledge and a time to develop

A time for belief
and a time for love

A time for trust
and a time for hope

With the shield of faith and the cross of love, the college student arms himself for his pilgrimage toward maturity. The degree of maturity is seen in the type of character developed and will not reach its zenith until one takes the time to grow.

. . . A time to plant and a time to pluck up that which is planted

A time to plan
and a time to cultivate

A time to dream
and a time to labor

A time to contemplate
and a time to change

Just as the sunburst on the Crest has its rays, so does the every dream have its ray of reality — Moody Science Center was a dream, the Ford Foundation Challenge Grant was a dream, the honor system was a dream, increased prestige was a dream, but like all dreams with purpose to them, they became realities through the forethought, perseverance, and abilities of people who took time to care about Austin College.

A time to teach
and
A time to learn

College Council

The College Council is the highest policy-making body on the campus for the total College program within broad policy limits established by the Board of Trustees. It takes action on educational questions, business affairs, and development, and is concerned with the operation and planning of the College. The work of the Council is expedited and accomplished through individuals, committees, and groups and organizations.

The operation of the total College program determines the membership of the College Council. It should be noted that the primary voting membership of the Council is composed of teaching faculty. Membership in the Council is granted because of program responsibility required to coordinate effectively the operation of the College. Members include the following personnel: President and the Operating Executives, five Area Chairmen, and three faculty members, elected by the faculty.

President of the College

Dr. John D. Moseley
President of the College
Professor of Government
B.A., East Texas State University
M.A., L.L.B., University of Texas
L.L.D., Midwestern University; Trinity University

Serving as both educator and administrator, President Moseley has devoted much of his time this year to the preparation of a more efficient and more workable administrative structure. Included in this new structure are areas in which students are expected to assume major responsibilities—the Student Administered Programs, the Honor Council, and the expanded College Council.

Under Dr. Moseley's leadership Austin College is investigating the possibility of creating a program to assist students in making critical decisions during the college years.

Special Assistants to the President are Virginia Sherard, Secretary of the College, and Luis Manueco-Jenkins, Research and Planning Officer and Assistant to the President. Miss Sherard received her B.A. and M.A. from George Washington University. Mr. Manueco-Jenkins, who received his B.A. from Austin College and his M.A. from Michigan State University, is also an instructor in Government.

Dean of the College

The Dean of the College has the responsibility for the operation of the Educational Program. He is the administrative officer responsible for the control of the education program budget. He is the chairman of the Academic Standards committee where he works with faculty on developing the academic program of the College.

Leo Lester Nussbaum
Dean of the College
Professor of Education and Psychology

Ph.D., Northwestern University

Director of Administration

Fred O. Detweiler
Director of Administration

The Director of Administration is the administrative officer responsible for the supervision of the present program and operation of the Development and Business Affairs Programs. The executives in Development and Business Affairs are administratively responsible to the Director of Administration.

Campus Coordinating Committee

The Campus Coordinating Committee in its first year of existence symbolizes in a realistic manner the concept that students, faculty, and administration can effectively contribute to the operation of Austin College.

This committee has responsibility and operational authority in nearly all phases of programs in which students are involved. During the spring semester it took on a new responsibility at the request of the President of the College. This was to analyze and revise, if necessary, the Student Code of Conduct.

Courses in the Education Area are aimed toward preparing students to be better citizens and to assume their roles as members of families, communities, and the nation. This area includes the departments of education, psychology, home arts, and health and physical education. Dr. Garmon B. Smith, professor of education and psychology, is chairman of the area.

Education is oriented toward the basic objectives of the Christian liberal arts college as a whole. The program of teacher preparation emphasizes broad, general education as a foundation for an adequate mastery of special knowledge and skills needed in the profession. Psychology seeks to discover and understand the principles which govern behavior, teaching the student the procedures, theories, and discoveries of the field.

In addition to teacher-training, the department of health and physical education offers a physical training program to encourage physical fitness through directed and voluntary participation.

Fine Arts Area

The fine arts lift the soul of man and enrich his daily life. The departments of music, art, speech and drama, included in this area, offer courses for both the student practitioner and appreciator of the fine arts. Dr. Harold Mueller, professor of music, is chairman of the area.

Music is one of the classical liberal arts. At Austin College, the music department teaches both the historical, theoretical, technical, and cultural aspects of music and performs, with students artists, in the concert hall for the benefit of the College community. The same is true of the department of art and the department of speech and drama. Art students and faculty cooperate in art displays in the Little Gallery of Cern Center and in the Memorial Union Building. Faculty and aspiring student actors, crew members, and dramatists associate in dramatic productions several times a year in the Arena Theatre.

History and Social Studies Area

The social sciences study man in society from several different perspectives. History supplies a knowledge of the basic events, institutions, attitudes, and achievements of the past, which provides a background for a wider understanding of contemporary problems. Dr. Clyde L. Hall, John T. Jones Professor of Economics, is chairman of the area.

The departments of economics and business administration teach students to understand the forces and theories as well as the practical aspects of the commercial and economic relations of man. Sociology and anthropology instruct the student in the development and structure of civilized and primitive societies, their problems and their cultures. The department of government applies itself to the study of political science, of man as he relates to his fellows through the framework of law and sovereignty.

Humanities Area

Austin College has always considered the study of the great ideas and values to be a significant factor in the liberal arts curriculum. With the study of philosophy, English, modern foreign languages, classics, religion, and the integrated curriculum of the Basic Studies program, the Humanities Area undergirds the liberal arts tradition. Dr. Frederick B. Eutsler, professor of philosophy, religion, and of Basic Studies, is chairman of the area.

The humanities reflect the ideas and ideals of men in past and present, the forces which have molded cultures from that of ancient China to that of modern America. The study of the languages and religions of other peoples broadens the student's understanding of the whole picture of man, through the ages. Familiarity with the language and literature of his own culture deepens his awareness of the progress of thought and potential for the future.

Mathematics- Science Area

There is a strong tradition of broad, rigorous education in the sciences and mathematics at Austin College. Each student is required to complete the equivalent of two years' work in the biological sciences, physical sciences and mathematics. The highest quality undergraduate instruction is offered in the fields of biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics, under the chairmanship of Dr. Frank C. Edwards, professor of chemistry.

A large and competent staff in the area provide training in practice and theory for future physicians, engineers, industrial scientists, and professors.

A time for fellowship
and
A time for discipline

RICHARD MERRITT
President

As ACSA President "Scooter" Merritt is responsible not only for executing the legislature of the Senate, but also for exercising leadership throughout the entire campus community.

Besides serving on committees concerning the Honor System, Aim Political Party, Self Study and Integrity, Scooter found the time to make the Dean's List and actively participate in Tri-Gam fraternity.

ACSA Leaders

Since this was his second term as Treasurer of ACSA, Steve Blythe carried out his official duties for 1965-66 with more ease. Books became easier to keep and the budget balanced somewhat better.

Working off campus as well as on has not prevented Steve from joining interest groups and holding offices in the Drake Fraternity.

STEVE BLYTHE
Treasurer

Having served as ACSA secretary for two and a half years, Susan Reed has accomplished many things. She has reorganized the ACSA files and has carried out all the official correspondence.

Last year Susan helped for the AIM party and ran on the AIM platform. Susan has also taken on the added responsibility of serving on several committees.

ROBERT BULLOCK, JR.
Attorney General

Appointed during the first semester by the President to replace Bill Kirk, who resigned, Robert Bullock moved into the position of Attorney General. Prior to that time he was a justice on the Student Court.

The Attorney General is responsible for the gathering of evidence and the prosecuting of all cases involving student infractions.

ACSA Council Chairmen Encourage

BARBARA CALHOON
Chairman, Panhellenic Council

Essential elements to Austin College are the ACSA council chairmen, because they are the ones who are responsible for the extracurricular activities of the Community.

Ruling over all the fraternities and sororities, the Panhellenic Council represents the various voices of the organizations. Formulating rush rules and supervision of the various functions are the duties of the council.

The Student Service Agency under Paul Sabatier this year sponsored a foreign affairs conference and a literary rack as well as cooperating with ACSA on their programs.

BEVERLY BENTHUL
Chairman, Student Activities Committee

PAUL SABATIER
Secretary, Student Service Agency

Student Participation in Activities

Homecoming and Spring Weekend would have been nothing without the planning of the Student Activities Committee headed by Beverly Benthul. Drafting committees, such as the entertainment and the publicity committees, enabled her to handle the activities more easily.

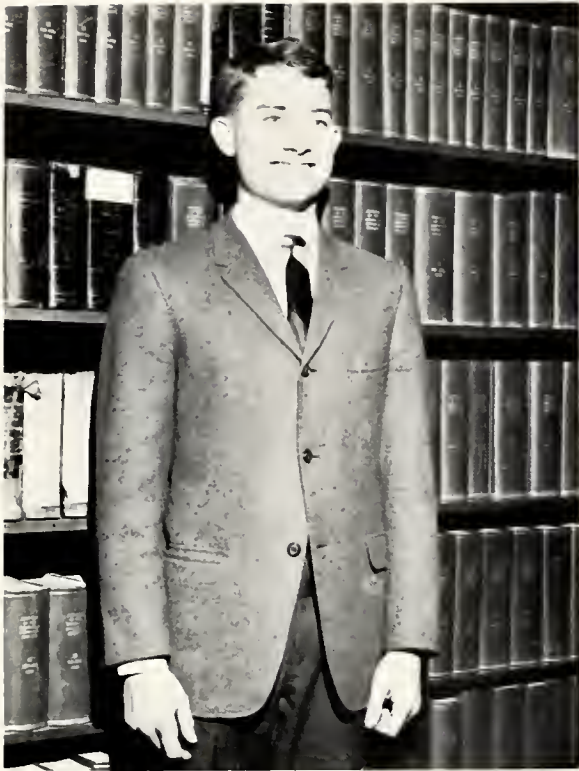

The Student Christian Council, with Mike Renquist as chairman, carried out all of the programs for the Friday chapels. They also developed other religious activities for the students, such as the Wednesday night devotionals in the Little Chapel.

The Inter-Hall Council, headed by Carolyn Trezevant, coordinated activities between halls. This year the Council, whose membership is made up of residence hall presidents, worked out a proposal giving all Senior girls "unlimited lates."

Carolyn Trezevant was the Chairman of the Inter-Hall Council for this year.

Mike Renquist served as President of the Student Christian Council for this past year.

Steve Warshaw served as Vice-President of ACSA and President of the Senate this year.

ACSA Senate

The Senate is the legislative body of the Austin College Student Association. Representative of every area of the student body, it is the official forum of expression in all matters of student interest. It works through three committees.

Student Activities Committee

This committee is concerned with all phases of student involvement in campus life. It works closely with the executive secretaries of activities and organizations such as Panhellenic and departmental clubs.

Rules Committee

The Rules Committee is most directly responsible for efficient operation of the Senate. Its primary responsibilities are three-fold: It examines all legislation structurally and grammatically before Senate consideration, compiles and interprets the rules under which the Senate operates, and originates legislation designed to meet the needs of the Judicial Branch of ACSA.

Members of the Rules Committee are Larry Francell, Mary Hahn, Sharon Thomas, Edwin Powers, Chairman; David Adams, Mary Glover. Not pictured are Tim Calvert, Rick Fuszek, and Arthur Tribble.

Human Relations Committee

With by far the broadest scope of any Senate committee this body has been responsible for forums and services in many areas of concern, such as student involvement in politics and race relations. This committee offers many possibilities for activating interest in local, national, and international problems on the campus.

ACSA Court Enforces AC Code of Conduct

LARRY HUELBIG
Chief Justice

This year has been one of change throughout student government for Austin College. Among the changes have been the added responsibility to the Student Court of non-involvement with the honor court. Trying cases of non-academic nature and having jurisdiction over all Senate legislation are among the duties of the court.

Members are appointed by the President and approved by the Senate. The members are selected on basis of maturity and the aspect of community life represented.

Members of the Inter-Hall Council are Carolyn Trezevant, Chairman; Becky Moore, Larry Sykes, John Galbraith, David Winship, and Carol Kizer.

Coordinating dorm rules and regulations is one of the responsibilities of the Inter-Hall Council. Composed of hall presidents and headed by Carolyn Trezevant, the council is responsible for the passage of new laws as well as enforcing old ones.

Forming welcoming groups for visitors and planning summer parties begin the activities of the Development Committee chaired by Mary Cushman. They are also responsible for talking to high schools in Texas about AC.

Residence Halls Given Vote in Community

Committees Plan Activities at Austin College

The committee responsible for the movies on Friday and Saturday nights consisted of (front row) Mary Lou Cassidy, Chairman; (second row) Kelly Breazeale, Mary King, Boyd Brazell, Mary Caroline Morrison.

Zorro at his best was presented through the efforts of Mary Lou Cassidy and her peers, who formed the Movie Committee. Foreign films were also a delight to the AC community.

The Student Activities Committee was divided into two committees: Homecoming and Spring Weekend. Each planned an entire weekend of activities for the campus. Both of these assets were extended to the school through the ACSA.

Planners of the Homecoming Weekend were (first row) Karen McCready, Anne Storey, Judy Burrows, Sue Fekety, Marie Carsner, Toni Lincecum; (second row) Delia Hendricks, Beverly Benthul, Chairman; Gretta Freidel, Mary King, Mike Renquist.

Panhellenic Rules Campus Greeks

Panhellenic gave the fraternities and sororities a common meeting ground. Supervised by the Student Life Center and headed by Barbara Calhoon, this group was the nucleus for the "Greeks."

Coordinating the work of foreign relations for the ACSA, the Student Service Agency, headed by Paul Sabatier, provided the student body with literature and conferences concerning American participation in foreign affairs.

Students Examine and Improve Honor System

Reviewing the progress of the honor system and suggesting new ideas for the furtherance of the program are the aims of the Planning and Implementing Committee. By inspecting the honor system not only in the dorms, but also within the campus community as a whole, the members of the committee are better able to discern the most beneficial actions. The fact that this committee is composed of both students and faculty members aids it in implementing the new program.

Religious Life Bolstered by Programs

The Wednesday night devotional, the five chapel luncheons and all religious life activities sponsored by the school are in the hands of either the Student Christian Council or the Student Life and Religious Life Committee. Designed for the non-academic life of the AC student, each committee plans and has jurisdiction over many activities and programs made available to students. The asset of having both faculty and students on the committee not only adds prestige but also potential to these committees.

Chromascope Staff

Months of hard work, fun, disappointment, anger, and excitement have gone into the preparing of the 1966 Chromascope. A staff of upperclassmen edited the various sections with the help of student volunteers interested in the publication. The book was under the supervision of Mrs. Aline L. Legg and the Publications Board.

Kangaroo Staff Produces Excellent

Printing a weekly newspaper with two to three deadlines a week was a new experience for most of the staff of the Kangaroo. Supplying the AC campus with points of student interest, recognition and information, this publication is under the supervision of both Mrs. Aline L. Harlequin Provides Literary Talent Exposure

Under the editorship of Sara Caroline Moseley and Jeff Stewart, the Harlequin provided literary entertainment of both prose and poetry. Taken from contributions of the students themselves, the Harlequin content is received and published by students with the aid of Mr. Ernest Beatty.

It was the duty of the Publications Board to plan and direct the activities of the student publications of the school. Composed of interested faculty and certain students, this committee elected all editors and approved budgets.

EDITORS OF THE FALL EDITION OF THE HARLEQUIN are Nancy Woodward, Art Editor; Sara Caroline Moseley, Editor; Jeff Stewart, Assistant Editor.

Chapel Choir

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mr. Bruce Lunkley, provides an anthem for each chapel service of worship. In December they presented their annual Christmas concert. Several times throughout the year the choir has teamed with the A Cappella Choir in concerts and in Chapel programs.

The Chapel Choir present Christmas music for the entire community.

The sixty voices representing Austin College on tours throughout the nation are a highly selected group. Under the direction of Mr. Bruce Lunkley, these students also take active parts in operettas, private voice lessons, and other opportunities available.

Against tradition, this year the A Cappella Choir has two concert tours. Besides singing on these occasions, the choir sang at convocations, commencement, and Good Friday. Also the choir sang at the evening performance for the Cunningham lecturer.

Instrumental Organizations Provide

The Brass Ensemble is one that closely resembles the brass section of a symphony orchestra. Offering one hour credit, the Brass Ensemble takes in members only by audition. Because it also makes many appearances both on campus and on tour, they have a repertoire of original and brass music.

The Austin College band is an active part of the campus spirit as portrayed at both ball games and concerts. Playing not only popular music but also marches and serious concert literature, the band members are adaptable to most types of musical entertainment.

Musical Entertainment at Austin College

The Woodwind Ensemble, composed of selected instrumentalists, made numerous appearances not only on the campus but also during the tour. Devoting itself to the performance of the finest chamber music, the group plays pieces ranging from quartets to octets.

Religious Interests Cultivated in Clubs

Christian Education Association

Members are Linnie Lyle, Beverly Birk, Judy Sikes, Patsy McDaniel, President; Molly Abbott, Secretary, and Susie Smith.

Those girls thinking of a type of Christian Education vocation joined the CEA which provided them the opportunity to work with Miss Abernathy in forming future plans. Projects such as service to the Sherman area were also undertaken by these girls.

Ministerial Student Association

Preparing themselves for a full-time vocation in the ministry, several AC students joined together to form the Ministerial Student Association. Besides reaping the rewards of Christian fellowship, these men perform several services for AC and the surrounding community: sponsoring visiting ministers and involving themselves in the chapel services.

Members are John Wiederholt, Mike Renquist, David Fletcher, Bob Barton, Tommy Evans.

Student Education Association

The theme for the SEA this year has been "New and Rapid Growth in 1965." Members of the organization have found time to assist at the Bryant School for Handicapped Children and to present programs to the local chapters of Future Teachers. The AC chapter also helped to organize a chapter at Grayson County Junior College.

Organizations Fill Students Free Time

Pre-Law Society

The aim of the pre-law society is to give the potential lawyers of AC a direct insight into their chosen profession by giving practical and intellectual opportunities to see their futures.

American Chemical Society

Students interested in chemistry or chemical engineering are offered the opportunity to become better acquainted with the practical application of chemistry through this society.

Clubs Add to Extra-Curricular Program

The assistance of the BLACKFRIARS has been a help to the theater productions this year. They work the lights, usher, put on make-up, act and direct. This fall they made the curtains for the Arena as one of their projects. Trips to Dallas for theatrical productions were also included in their activities.

During the year the SPANISH CLUB has offered its members the opportunity to speak Spanish outside of the classroom and learn more of Spanish-speaking people. Through lectures, the members of the Spanish Club have increased their interest in the Spanish culture.

Spanish Club

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

Besides doing the usual cheerleading duties, the Cheerleaders were in charge of the Spirit Contest each week. They also were responsible for the Freshman program. They directed the serenades, the sidewalk scrub, and the street painting. In addition they chose the cannon crew for each home game and selected a girl and a boy "Wimp of the Week" for each of the three weeks of the program.

The faces of Nancy and Mike reflect the tension and hope of all at one of the basketball games.

The spirit of the student body was boosted by a winning team and by eight active people who encouraged the students to yell.

Alpha Delta Chi

Alpha Delta Chi, established in 1933, was the first social organization on the Austin College campus. The sorority strives to help each member develop both socially and scholastically, as well as to contribute in full measure to the Austin College campus and community. Willingness to serve is a vital part of the Alphas.

One service project has been to "adopt" a retarded girl by contributing to her funds and remembering her with cards and gifts on special occasions. The pledges planned a project to sell carnations to the Austin College students and contribute the profit to a beneficial program.

The Alphas are very grateful for the help and interest of our sponsors, Dr. and Mrs. John L. Mackey, and our patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Day, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Pedigo and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Nutt.

Not pictured are Jane Chapman, Mona Keffer, Linda Metcalf, Lucy Shelton, Nancy Terry.

Among the highlights of the year's activities, the Alphas held three retreats, during which times the girls became even closer.

Delta Phi Nu

Delta Phi Nu was organized as a social group in 1958 on the premise that groups support individuals who support themselves. Following this premise, the Deltas are involved in a wide variety of experiences to develop and utilize the diversified talents of the various members.

The Deltas began this year with the now-traditional BOOKSALE. At Homecoming, students and guests were again treated to the Deltas' somewhat twisted version of Shakespeare in the GLOBE THEATRE. This was followed by another delightful evening of entertainment when the Deltas brought the WINDJAMMERS to the campus. Other Delta activities include a spring and fall retreat, a fall closed party, a spring formal, and a closed party at Lake Texoma. In keeping with their tradition of academic excellence, the Deltas earned the highest sorority GPA for the last spring semester.

Sponsors are Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Carlson. Patrons are Dr. and Mrs. Harold Mueller, Dean and Mrs. J. Carter Parkes, Mr. and Mrs. T. Ellis Lockhart, and Dr. Virginia Love.

Kappa Gamma Chi

Kappa Gamma Chi, the oldest women's organization on campus, might best be understood as a kaleidoscope of creativity and imagination on the Austin College campus. Distinctively recognized by its colorful membership, the sorority feels that each person in the group contributes uniquely through her role in campus life.

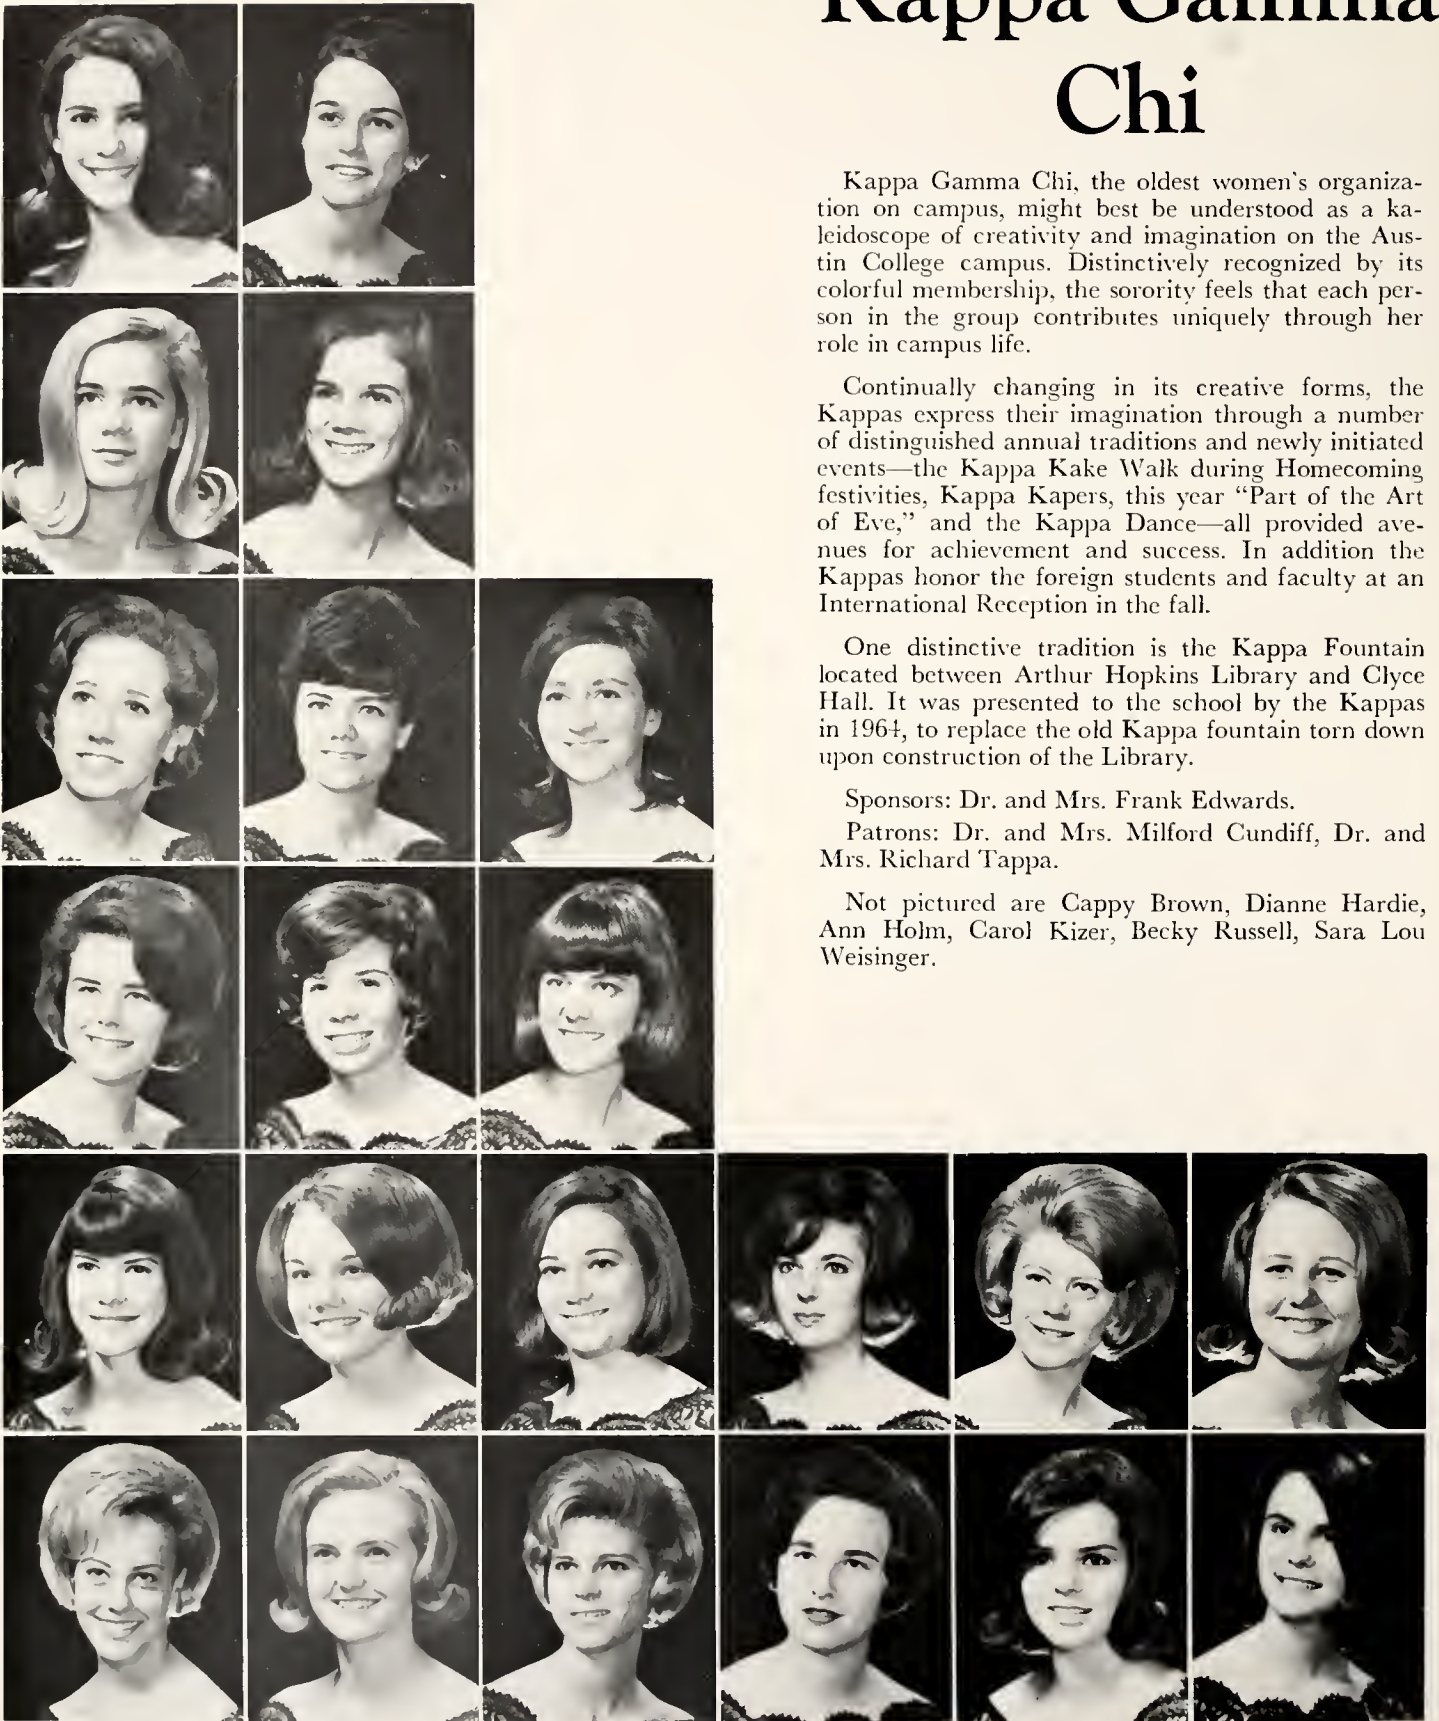

Continually changing in its creative forms, the Kappas express their imagination through a number of distinguished annual traditions and newly initiated events—the Kappa Kake Walk during Homecoming festivities, Kappa Kapers, this year “Part of the Art of Eve,” and the Kappa Dance—all provided avenues for achievement and success. In addition the Kappas honor the foreign students and faculty at an International Reception in the fall.

One distinctive tradition is the Kappa Fountain located between Arthur Hopkins Library and Clyce Hall. It was presented to the school by the Kappas in 1964, to replace the old Kappa fountain torn down upon construction of the Library.

Sponsors: Dr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards.

Patrons: Dr. and Mrs. Milford Cundiff, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Tappa.

Theta Phi Delta

The Thetas were organized in 1954 for the purpose of enriching the social, scholastic, and service activities of Austin College. Since this time, Thetas have contributed as a group and as individuals in all phases of campus life. Membership in Thetas does not mean group conformity or abandoning individuality. Bound by common ideals and close friendship, each member is encouraged to develop to her highest potential.

Contributing to the social life on campus, the Thetas sponsor an All-School Formal in the fall and a Carol Fest during the Christmas Season. Formal and informal closed parties strengthen the bonds within the group.

Sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Finnell (Fall), and Dr. and Mrs. William B. Guerrant (Spring); patrons are Dr. and Mrs. Howard McCarley.

Beta Chi Omega

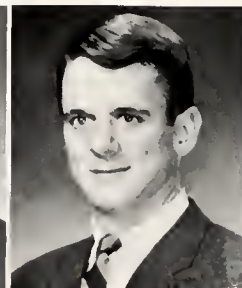

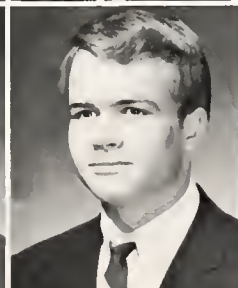

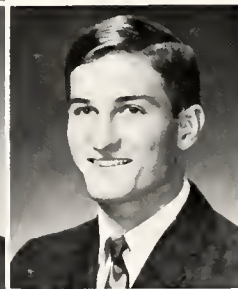

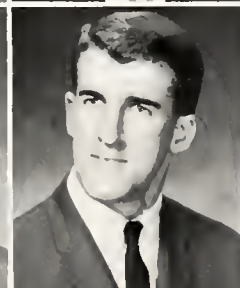

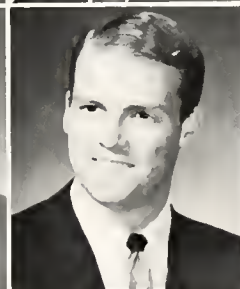

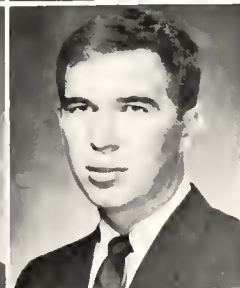

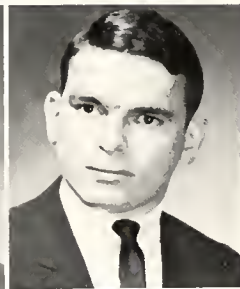

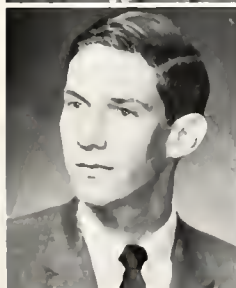

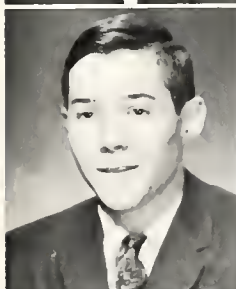

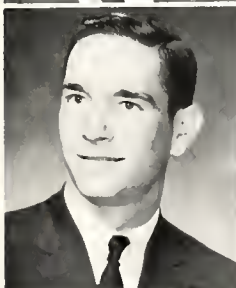

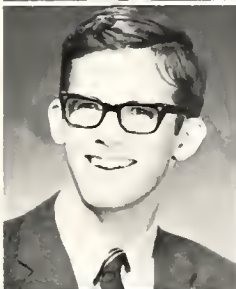

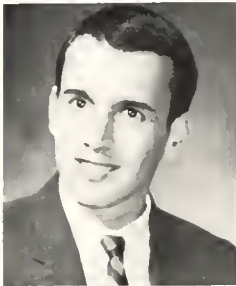

The Beta Chi Omega fraternity was founded in 1955 to fulfill the need for a group at Austin College which offered a close brotherhood with a duration of more than four years. This brotherhood was developed through participation in all school activities, the pledge program, and the alumni association.

The pledge program takes men and unites them into one integral part of the fellowship enjoyed by the fraternity. Pledgeship introduces the pledges to the traditions and customs of the fraternity.

It is through the alumni association that old friendships are renewed and new ones made; as alumni and active members of the fraternity meet each summer at the annual retreat. The members hold their annual business meeting to donate the Beta Chi Omega scholarship to Austin College.

The Betas represent Austin College in intercollegiate athletics, college sponsored organizations, intramural programs and social functions. A fall dance and the spring Queen of Hearts Dance are sponsored each year. The fraternity is pleased to have Miss Marney Robertson as 1966 Queen of Hearts.

Chi Delta Eta

The organization of Chi Delta Eta serves a dual purpose: first, that the members may have an outlet for their talents and ideas; and, second, that the members may grow through the talents and ideas of others. Each man has his specialty—major academic field or extracurricular activity—and every other man is exposed to his methods and inquiry.

The men are active in almost every extra-curricular phase of campus life: A Cappella Choir, all phases of athletics, speech and drama, and equally varying activities in the Sherman community. This cross-section of academic and outside interests, geographic organizations, and social backgrounds composes a well rounded and effective group.

The men owe a debt of gratitude to their patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Kirby, Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Flaccus, Rev. and Mrs. Hendren, and Joe Kaufman.

Drake Fraternity

The Drake Fraternity was organized in 1946 by a group of Austin College students for the purpose of introducing a social and scholastic organization on the campus. Ever since then, it has been the desire of the Drakes to allow college men with different personal backgrounds to work together for the purpose of sharing ideas in promoting social activities. Further, the Drake Fraternity is representative of all phases of campus life. As a social organization, it has a good time while its members fulfill their campus, academic and leadership responsibilities.

In order to fulfill the aim of providing social activities for its membership and the entire student body, the Drakes sponsor two annual dances. The Western Dance, which originated in 1953, is held in the spring, and the Shipwreck has been the big dance of the year since its founding in 1947.

Sponsor is Mr. Rollin Rolfe. Patron is Miss Beach. Not pictured are Don Galgan and Dwain White.

Gamma Gamma Gamma

The Tri-Gamma Fraternity was formed in 1963 to provide a fraternity framework which would not limit, but augment, the individuality of its members. Individual expression, integrity and eccentricity provide the primary emphasis of all Tri-Gam activities. Only a small group has the flexibility to fully accommodate individual needs and Tri-Gamma is therefore limited to twenty members.

Academic achievement is a major goal of the men of Tri-Gamma. The fraternity has always felt that real scholarship was best promoted by an outlook which puts studies first. Service is also a major factor in the Tri-Gam philosophy. It is the goal of the group to act as a matrix within which individuals can generate and find support for creative contributions to campus and community life. Service activity has taken two primary forms: Promoting individual leadership in student government, and other organizations outside the fraternity, providing original and creative social events.

Iota Lambda

The gentlemen of the Iota Lambda Fraternity feel that they have something unique on the Austin College campus. They formed in the Spring of 1965 with the purpose that a brotherhood could be formed around the Individual. The pin describes the purpose of the Iota, symbolizing the Individual, is pictured above the Lambda, meaning Organization. One of the tenets of the fraternity as stated in the Preface to the Constitution insures the member his unique individuality while within the organization.

The Iota Lambdas have already established a tradition: A Beach Party at Lake Texoma held semi-annually. The men participated in the Homecoming Carnival this fall with their version of Execution in Effigy of the professors. The fraternity feels that academics are most important on this campus, thus encouraging its members to further excellence.

Special votes of gratitude are to be extended to the Sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Randall, and to the Patrons, Dr. and Mrs. David Darling and Rev. and Mrs. Allen Smith, whose help and backing have been invaluable.

Pi Chi Epsilon

The Pi Chis are an aggregate of individuals. They try to maintain an informal and open organizational structure, so that each member can develop and express his individuality as he sees fit. The Pi Chis try to be creative rather than traditional.

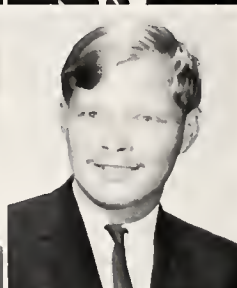

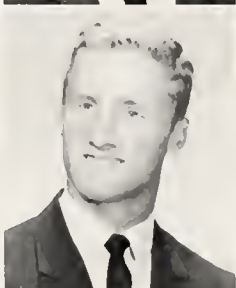

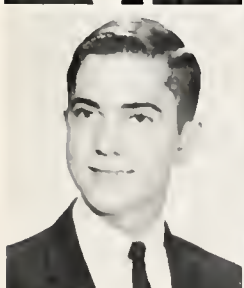

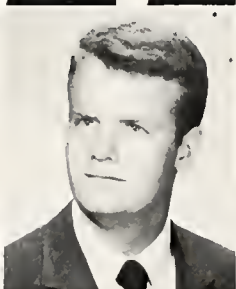

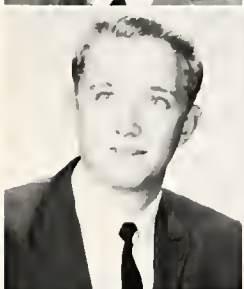

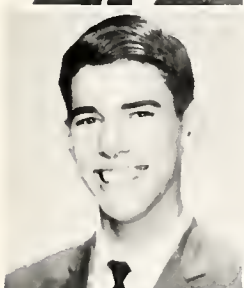

Activities for the year included revival of "Son of Faust," retreats and closed parties. Also, this fall as their crowning achievement the Pi Chiş presented the "Son of Camelot." In their own humble opinion they reached a new plateau of dramatic maturity with this allegorical treatment of the honor system. The pledge class "Wax Museums" forbode the same irreverent iconoclasm for which the Pi Chis have become famous.

The Sigma Tau variety show, "Let Us Entertain You . . . Again," featured the talents of faculty and the Taus.

Sigma Tau Epsilon

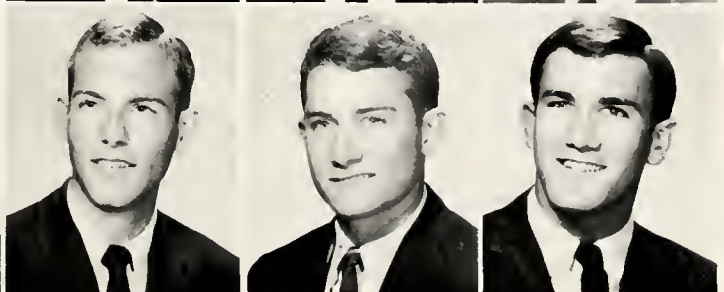

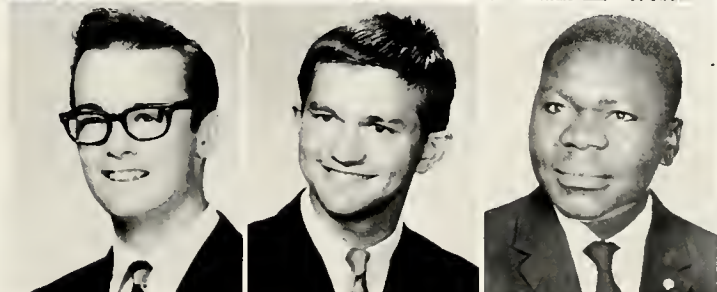

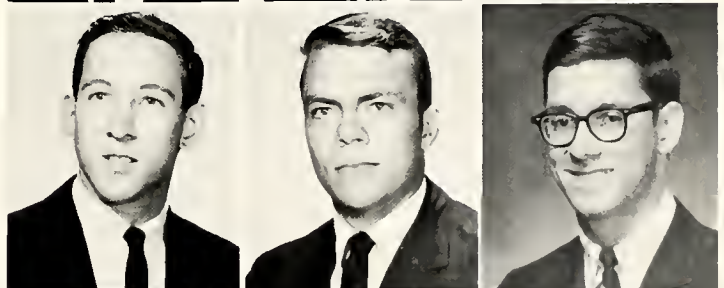

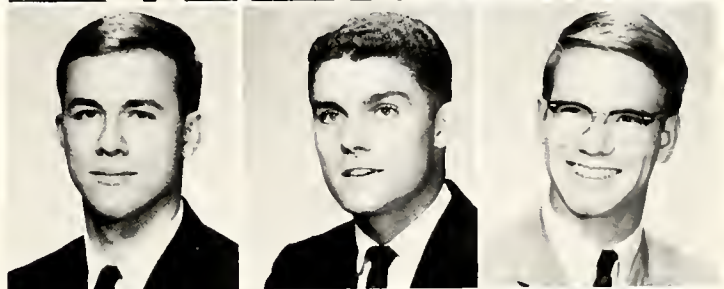

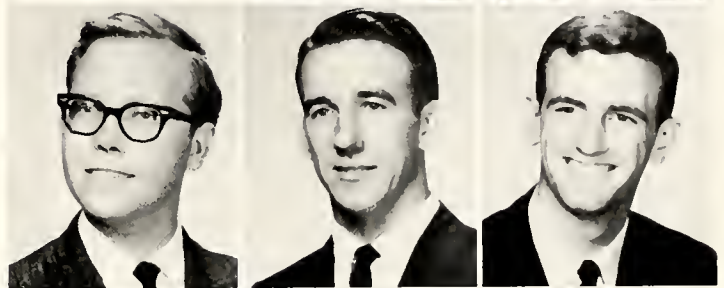

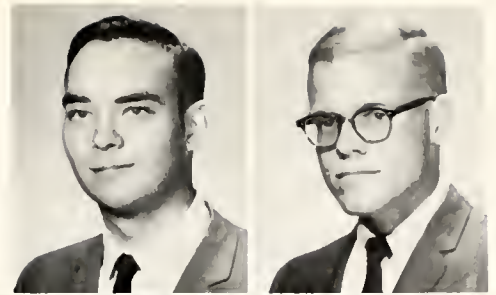

Sigma Tau Epsilon was founded in 1957 for the improvement of its members and the college community. In a unique blending of the academic and the social, Sigma Tau activities are marked by originality and excellence.

"Wisdom is more precious than praise"—the fraternity motto—recognizes the college man's primary educational responsibility. As individuals and as a group, Sigma Taus rank high academically and various members were selected for the Alpha Chi, Woodrow Wilson fellowships, and other honors.

At the Homecoming Carnival, Sigma Taus staged the satirical "Loser's Day Convocation." In November the fraternity took its boughs and presented "A Night in the Black Forest," a semi-formal. "Let Us Entertain You . . . Again," a revival of the traditional variety show involving fraternity and faculty talent, was staged in March.

Sigma Tau Epsilon fielded teams in all intramural sports, with inconspicuous results. Their musical reputation was enhanced by fall and spring serenades and pinning ceremonies. Sigma Taus participated in many school activities, including student government, publications, orientation leaders, A Cappella and chapel choir, band, Who's Who. The group gave time and financial support to the World Affairs Commission, the Robert Shaw Chorale Presentation, and the all-school musical.

Sponsors for the fraternity are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce G. Lunkley. Patrons are Dr. Frederick Eutsler, Mr. J. Paul Franke, and Mr. Luis Manueco-Jenkins. Not pictured is Jack McCubbin.

A coach is a teacher; he is the one to whom the athlete can turn for both physical and character guidance. A coach is a friend; he is the one to whom the athlete turns for relaxation and fun. Enthusiasm might well have been the key to success for Kangaroo footballers in 1965. Seventy-one athletes — the largest squad ever for AC — proved once again that a non-subsidized athletic program is a meaningful and worthwhile supplement to a liberal arts education. The underdog Hoppers completed the season with a commendable record of seven victories and two defeats. Forty-three varsity letter awards and twenty-eight reserve awards were given to the team members who contributed to the successful season.

1965 was a memorable season: Austin College finished ahead of the eight other independent colleges in Texas with a .778 won-lost percentage . . . Defensively, the Hoppers allowed only 120 points to be scored against them, the best defensive work among independents . . .

At the 1965 Homecoming game ceremonies, twenty-two former AC coaches and athletes were inducted into the Hall of Honor, newly created by the Alumni Athletic Association . . . Jerry Bishop completed 137 of 262 passes for 1,727 yards and 16 touchdowns this season . . . In his four year career, Bishop amassed 5,992 yards with 486 completions in 852 attempts, good for 49 TD's — all of which are school records . . . Dick Hill was the leading receiver with 45 catches for 585 yards and 8 TD's . . . Dwight Johnson caught 25 passes for 370 yards, Ronnie Hagood grabbed 14 for 240 yards, Mike Maloney snatched 12 for 146 yards, John Bengel snagged 17 for 144 yards, and John Menefee made 10 catches for 131 yards . . . Dick Hill caught a career total of 112 passes for 1,568 yards . . . Gary Whitfield caught two passes.

With his, and AC's, goal in sight Dick Hill plunges across the line for another AC TD.

Victorious Season

Fred Maples booted 41 punts for a 38.8 yard average . . . Don Fields made five interceptions and Curtis Tillett picked off four . . . Leading rusher was Mike Maloney with 635 yards, followed by Bengel with 423, Hill with 251. Maples with 161, and Bob Smith with 145 . . . Don Fields returned 3 punts for 128 yards and two TD's . . . Leading scorer was Dick Hill with 68 points on eleven touchdowns and two extra points . . . Maloney had 8 TD's and Bengel, 5 . . . Place-kicker, Joe Johnston, scored 30 points with his toe . . . Linemen Ken Gentry and Jack Morrison each scored a touchdown . . . Eleven Kangaroos were selected to the all-opponent team selected by Washington University at St. Louis—namely, Dwight Johnson, George Cox, Jim Jarratt, Barry Faulkner, Jerry Bishop and Dick Hill on offense, and Sandy Staley, Tommy Eustace, Tom Whelan, Neill Crockett, and Ronnie Ferguson on defense . . . Jerry Bishop, Gerald Thompson, and Dick Hill were selected to the All Texas College team for the second straight year.

AUSTIN COLLEGE 32 MILLSAPS 0

Millsaps' team was heavier and faster this year but it was to no avail as Jerry Bishop, top small college passer, and Dick Hill, holder of NAIA all-time receiving records, proved to be too much and the Hoppers marched to a 32 to 0 score over the Majors. Barker and Crockett highlighted the defense with two pass interceptions. AC's offense and defense outplayed Millsaps and won its first victory.

Menefee, freshman end, gathers one in deep in Millsaps territory.

AUSTIN COLLEGE 42 NATIONAL POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE 8

Mexico Polytech was AC's second victim as Jerry Bishop set a new school record for passing. Maloney and Bengel paced the Kangys on the ground, while Ferguson and Fields led the defense with key pass interceptions. While the Kangaroos put more mileage on the ground than in the air, Bishop broke Bo Miller's old passing record ('57-'60 seasons was 4,590 yards) and ended the game with 379 out of 533 passing attempts for a total of 4,715 yards. Joe Johnston successfully completed all six extra point attempts as Austin College powered its way to its second victory.

AUSTIN COLLEGE 14 HENDERSON STATE 20

Henderson State capitalized on a fumble and an intercepted pass to come from behind and hand Austin College its first defeat. AC scored first on a 58-yard drive with Maloney scoring from the four. Early in the fourth period, Maloney scored again after a Whelan interception, and Johnston converted.

Sewanee, boasting the second leading rusher in the nation, was held to one touchdown as Maloney, Hill, Bengel and Bishop crossed the goal line for Austin. WASHINGTON AT ST. LOUIS 14

Saint Louis was the place, as a stout defense and a quick offense defeated nationally-ranked Washington University. Eustace set up the first touchdown as he recovered a fumble deep in Washington territory. Bishop threw a two-yard touchdown pass to Hill and Johnson kicked his first of three conversions. After a 27-yard run by Bengel, Bishop threw to Hill again and AC carried 14 points to the locker room. Hill scored his third touchdown of the afternoon in the third period.

AC Wins Six

AUSTIN COLLEGE 41 MISSOURI VALLEY 0

Homecoming fans witnessed a decisive Kangaroo victory over the Missouri Valley Vikings. Hill, Smith, and Maloney gave the offense a strong ground attack while Bishop, passing to ends Menefee and Hagood, gave it the aerial balance. The defense, backed by Fields, Cox, Staley, Whelan, Wylie, Foreman, and Eustace, outplayed the heavier Vikings.

AUSTIN COLLEGE 32
SOUTHERN STATE (ARKANSAS) 24

Southern State scored first with a field goal in this action-packed game. Austin came back with a touchdown as Foreman recovered a fumble deep in State's territory. The Kangaroos scored again after Fields returned a punt 65 yards to paydirt. Austin College's strong defense held State scoreless the second half while offense led by Bishop came from behind and gave AC its sixth win.

AUSTIN COLLEGE 19 MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE 21

Austin lost a heartbreaker and the Mineral Water Bowl bid to the Mississippi College Choctaws. This controversial game found the Hoppers 14 points behind before Bishop connected with Bengel for AC's first touchdown. Mississippi's offense never crossed the 50 in the second half, but its lead was too much for the Kangaroos.

AUSTIN COLLEGE 48
SOUTHWESTERN OF MEMPHIS 27

Southwestern struck first in this one-sided affair after a fumble put the Lynx on AC's 10. But behind the coordinated efforts of Bishop, Hill, Bengel, and Hagood, the Kangaroos bounced back and scored five times before the second period. The reserves took over for most of the second half, ending AC's best football season since 1959.

Bishop Captures Fourth Place in NAIA Ratings

Jerry Bishop

Jerry Bishop, Kangaroo quarterback for the past four seasons, was selected to the NAIA All-American second team. Bishop finished fourth in the nation's small colleges in passing. The Olney senior completed 137 out of 262 attempts for 1,727 yards and sixteen touchdowns. In addition, Jerry ranked ninth in the nation in total offense.

Gerald Thompson was chosen NAIA honorable mention All-American end.

The 1965 Kangaroos held fifth place among the nation's small colleges in team passing. The Kangaroos were fourth in the nation in total offense, with 663 plays for 3,678 yards—an average of 409.6 yards per game.

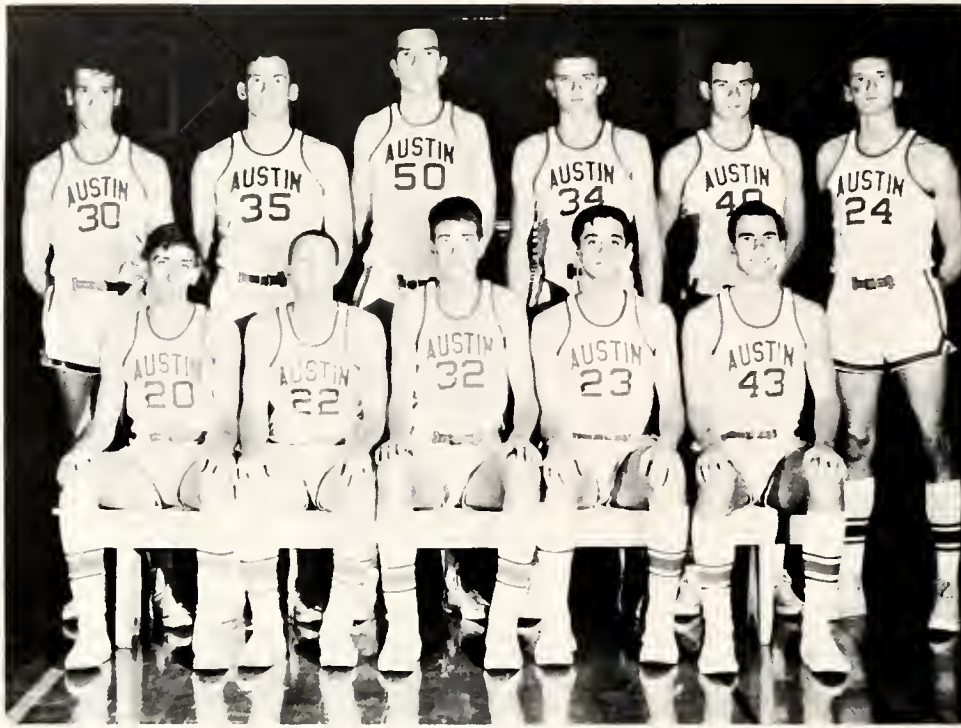

Following the completion of a successful season of seven wins and two losses, the Austin College football team was rated twentieth in the final poll of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Members of the 1965-66 Kangaroo team are (first row) Whelan, Barker, Hacker, Schuchany, Price, Wylie, Foreman, Ferguson, Staley, Crockett, Eustace, Hagood, (second row) Hill, Maloney, Hensarling, Cox, Hughes, Jarratt, Bengel, Bishop, Faulkner, Menefee, Gentry, (third row) Fields, Hudson, Tillett, Carney, O'Rear, Kimbro, Hensarling, Maples, Campbell, Maroney, Lowe, (fourth row) Thompson, Smith, Moore, Hester, Lewis, Wayman, Carver, Johnston, Poole, Criswell, Morrison, Woodward, Melville, (fifth row) Haney, Severson, Wilson, Wilkes, Dearen, Craig, Eubanks, Markovich, Ross, McHam, Mann, Pickering, (sixth row) Day, Thomas, McAlpine, Desch, Garlington, Mathis, Lefforge, Whitfield, Lamb, Cramblett, Prentice, Bollmen, Nelson, Peteet, Babb, Mason, Nutt, Long, Gass.

Fans look on as Toro makes another basket for A.C. Barrett moves in to cover as two Midwestern guards look on.

Austin College basketball fortunes bounced crazily throughout the 1965-66 season. Handicapped by the lack of size and experience, the hustling Hoppers frequently fell a few points short of victory. Throughout the dismal season, fortunately, team morale remained higher than that of the fans, and the AC cagers continued to give their top effort.

Only three lettermen returned from the previous year's squad. These three—Tommy Skipworth, Joe Barrett, and Larry Kirk—started every game and were the top scorers. Barrett, though only a sophomore, was elected team captain in recognition of his leadership ability and team spirit.

Sophomores Rick Redington, Tony Toro and Tim Calvert moved up from last year's Junior Varsity. Transfers Guy Martin, Gary Looney and Clyde Cotton added depth to the team. Rounding out the squad were freshmen Greg Schmitz and Bob Young.

Jumping skills seem to manifest themselves in Toro (35) as he attempts to halt an opponent from sinking the ball for two points. Barrett and Looney look on.

Although head coach Bob Mason had no seniors on the 1965-66 squad, he will have a more experienced nucleus for next season's shooters. Potential will be increased for the 1966-67 season due to cooperation and hard work.

Austin College avoided the cellar of NAIA District 8 North Zone by defeating Wayland College early in the season, and kept them from winning the district championship, which was won by Midwestern of Wichita Falls.

Gaining valuable experience for the future, members of the Junior Varsity developed personal and team skills. Under the direction of Graduate Assistant Mike Nelson, himself a former AC cager, the JV won five games, lost six, and tied one. When a game with Weatherford Junior College could not be concluded because another game was scheduled in the gym, the unusual tie resulted.

A season highlight was the Exes game, which annually matches former AC basketball stars against the current JV. Once again the younger JV cagers triumphed over the more experienced Exes. The rest of the season's games were played against other colleges' freshmen and junior varsity teams and some junior college teams.

Students Abroad

Students Live, Work,

Experiment in International Living

To leave one's home and family to visit a strange land and strange people is an awkward time for a student. And to be faced with the prospect of returning in three months, after adapting one's self to the change, is an even more awkward situation. And yet, the experiences gained and the memories accumulated that will always linger and influence the lives of the participants make the Experiment in International Living truly a desirable experience.

Ginny Arthur recalls her experiment in Germany this past summer as she looks at Betty Ann Sterret's scrapbook from England. Mary Isham remembers her family in Spain.

Ann Viers wears a traditional kimono of Japan.

Learn in Other Countries

Larry Sykes, Ann Holm, and Bill Sayre strike a typical British pose with a cane and umbrella.

Winant Volunteers

Austin College also offers students the opportunity to live either in hostels or in various types of housing as a participant of Winant Volunteers. Helping underprivileged juveniles, little children and old folks, through such projects as clubs, the Winants form new friendships with the other Winants and the people of England.

Summer Seminar

The Austin College Summer Seminar, which toured Europe, included a trip behind the Iron Curtain. Those from AC participating in the Seminar led by Dr. Charles Kennedy are Judy Brown, Eileen Stivers, Jean Burford, John Weiderholt, Carol Wynn, Ann Bader, Patricia Heaney, and Dr. A. J. Carlson.

Ron Walden, Howard Channel and Sara Caroline Moseley recreate the atmosphere of "jolly old England."

Austin College

Operations Crossroads- Africa

Two participants in Crossroads, Mickey Pennington and Kay McConathy, display a few souvenirs they brought home with them from Kenya and West Cameroon.

Spending a summer in a native village full of people with not only a different language but also a different color could prove quite a task for some people. And yet it provided five AC students with such an opportunity.

Fulfilling the purposes and aims of the program, these students spent a summer in Africa building schools, hospitals, and other needed edifices. Starting from almost nothing but hope and some material, the people of Africa and the students worked together to insure the building's erection.

Susan Reed, who worked in Nigeria, Margo Dodge in Sierra Leone, and Joe Gay in Malawi had much to remember and reminisce over their eventful summer in Africa.

Sends Delegates Around World

Junior Year Abroad

Another service offered by AC to her students is the Junior Year Abroad. This program insures a student a full year in the land of his choice. In this year the student travels, attends school and learns to speak and live as the people of his land. To become fluent in the language as well as adept in the customs of the peoples is the goal of all who go abroad and traces of this goal achieved are evidenced in the mannerisms of the students once they return.

Traveling to Spain where they studied not only the Castilian language but also the history of the Spanish were Barbara Finnegan, Sara Bishop, and (not pictured) Dorothy Young.

James Foreman, who spent his Junior year in Austria, and Linda Hart, who spent hers in Spain, contrast the difference between their "adopted" countries.

Demonstrating one of the arts in which he became quite the artist, George Wilcox, who spent his Junior year in Germany, skunks another opponent in table tennis.

AC Plays Host to

From Europe

This fall presented to Austin College an opportunity for exchanging cultural views coming in the form of foreign students, from both Europe and Asia. These students brought with them keen desires and motivations, along with laughable accents, some with drawls, and some with British tones. They brought with them ideas of how government should be run, food should be cooked, and religious matters should be discussed. They brought with them altruistic personalities ready to give of their ancient cultural fullness and beauty that is so prominent within them, making them individually outstanding contributions to AC.

Always bearing a warm smile, Dimitrios Papadopoulos, from Yannitsa, Greece, added a great deal of cultural exchange to Austin College. Adept in the fields of acting and academics, Dimitrios proved to be a valuable asset to AC.

Ayse Koymen, a transfer from the University of Oregon, ended her college at AC this year. Although she has become adjusted to Americans, she still has many customs and habits of her native Turkey.

Pausing from a busy day of routine chores, Eva Kinstrand, of Upsala, Sweden, helps herself to some salad in the Green Room, a service new to Eva this year.

Twelve Foreign Students

Munif Abu-Rish, from Beirut, Lebanon, had little trouble adjusting to the American way of life.

From the Middle East

They introduced a different pace to Austin College, one based on century-old traditions stemming from past heroes whether fictitious or real. They presented the campus inexhaustible enthusiasm—enthusiasm about life, love, education, and Americans.

Hoping to gain knowledge of and insight into the American people, the foreign students have given of their time and talents in all fields, have absorbed the American characteristics of punctuality and formality. To aid their blending with the capitalistic way of life, these foreigners learned to understand and even return the teasing and the jargon handed them by the students here.

Akil Abdulaziz, from Aden, Yemen, is another visitor from the Near East.

Robert Baron, with his wife, Lenora, came to AC for the year from Tel-Aviv, Israel.

Far East, Africa Send Students

Although the values at Austin College differ from those of other colleges in other American environments, the visitors were able by the end of a period of time to formulate a general opinion of the American students. Through mutual exchange of values, beliefs, hopes, prayers, and histories, both hemispheres were able to find a common ground. Colors began to matter less; understanding and love manifested the important things to the new friendships formed between a young, inexperienced world and ancient, wise ones.

Kazuko Akiyama, from Kagawa-Ken, Japan, helps Tomoko Tomita, from Imabari, Ehime, Japan, with her kimono. Tomoko is new this year and Kazuko is here for her second year.

From Africa

From the Far East

Bessie Yeh, from Formosa, was born in Shanghai, China. She arrived at AC in time for the second semester. Not pictured is Deung-Kil Choi from Seoul, Korea, who is presently doing graduate work in business.

Vera Shackelford, from Freetown, Sierra Leone, West Africa, is a new second semester student. Also from Africa, Uganda, is Stanley Sempala (not pictured), who is back for his second year.

Special Events

Wimps Infiltrate Campus,

The Wimps, although somewhat noticeable by their beanies, blended in well with the Moody Science Center, both being new.

September was for 320 freshmen a month of excitement. It was begun on September 8 with the arrival of the new students and the beginning of the orientation program, followed by the Wimp program.

Getting and wearing beanies was only the beginning of activity for the Wimps, who attended ball games, and studied under the watchful eye of "Big Brother." The freshmen were responsible for a spirit contest entry each week; Raye Thrailkill was in charge of this. To add to the enthusiasm of the Wimp program, two Wimps were honored each week.

With dances, classes, and upperclassmen's cries of "Button, Wimp!" the 1965 Freshman Class became adjusted to Austin College.

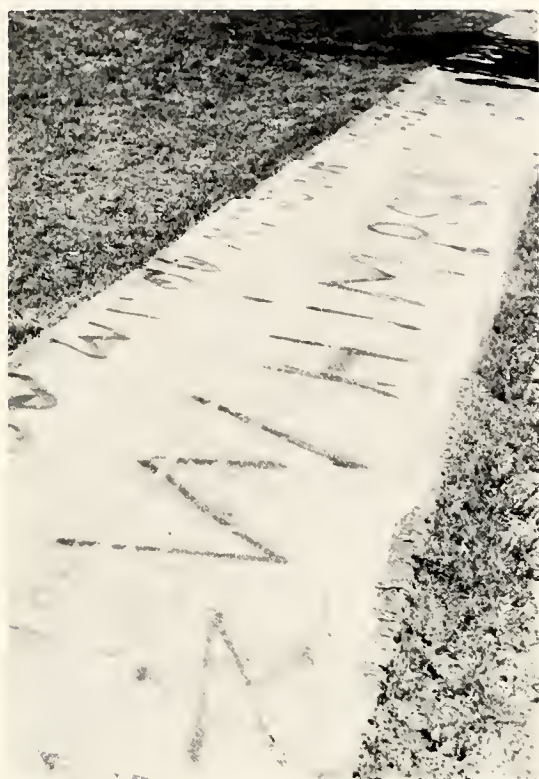

Hard work was put into the street paint by the Wimps, especially these two. The street paint was one of the Wimp activities.

When the girls serenaded the men's dorms, rain and detergent fell.

Boost Spirit

Leaving their traditional acceptance to the invitation to join AC, the Freshmen sign their names to the upperclassmen walk.

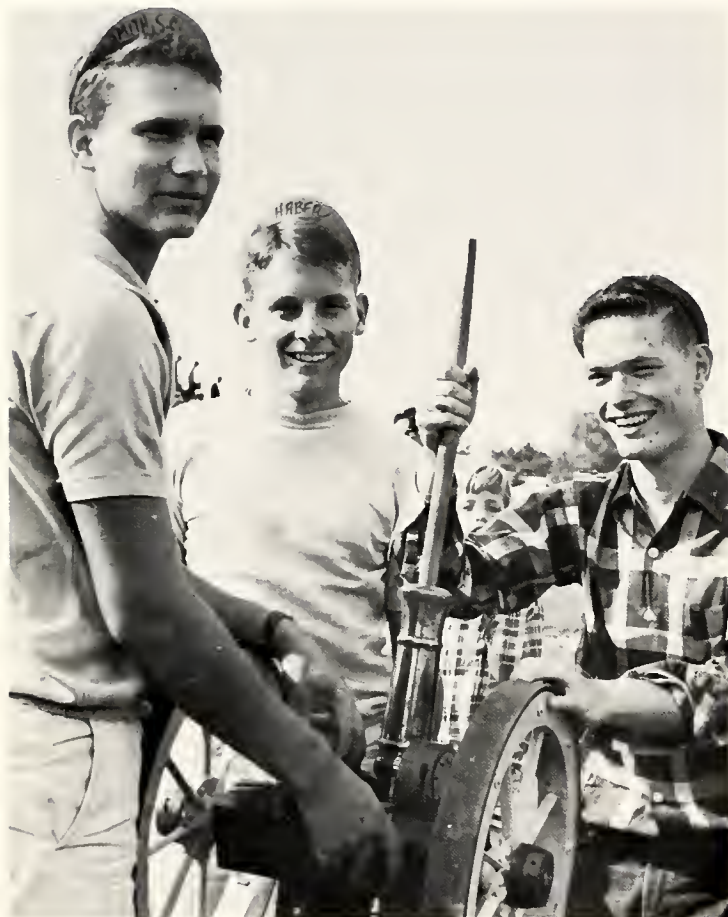

The excitement expressed on the faces of these Freshmen being presented their beloved beanies by an orientation leader is a glorious sight to behold.

However, the Wimps graciously agreed to erase their names from the sacred walk.

Council, Cannoneers Lead Wimps

Cannoneers Smith, Haber, McCants, Williams, Abernathy and Papadoupoulas take time from their busy routine at the ball games to pose for these pictures. Their duty was to fire the Cannon at every AC touchdown.

Frosh Sing and Dance

Finding time for dances, projects, studying, and extracurricular activities during the Orientation program, the Wimp problems were not the only ones facing the Freshmen. They met the challenge quite well, realizing there is a time for everything, especially for finding one's self and his place in the college life.

To help the Freshmen get acquainted, a dance was a part of the Orientation Program.

Singing their way into the hearts of the female groups, the Freshmen boys receive their directions in front of Clyce Hall.

Fall Offers Old, Yet

Dr. Laurence M. Gould proudly wears the Founder's Medal presented him by the College.

With Founder's Day, the Leadership Conference, and the play, Austin College students settled down to another year of hard work rewarded by honors. Students, aware of the potential and limits, learned to budget their time so that they could indulge in the necessary and the unnecessary.

For some, fall meant a time for a new beginning; for others, fall meant a time for giving strength to what was left; and for still others, it meant a time to finish what had been left undone. But to all, fall meant Austin College and all of the opportunities it had to offer if they would only reach out for them.

While the main objective of the Leadership Conference was to demonstrate effective leadership, the lack of campus unity became the chief topic for group discussion.

Pausing during the Leadership Conference to relax a bit, Betsy Henley and Jo Nussbaum share their musical talents with others.

New Opportunities

Mardi Gras, presented by the Theta Phi Delta Sorority, was the first formal dance of the fall.

Mike Renquist enjoys being told "how handsome he is" in "The Apollo of Bellac."

"King" Jeff Stewart knights Warren Lynn as Sir Lance C. Lot in the Pi Chi production of "Son of Camelot."

Homecoming Brings Carnival,

The Alpha Dunk, one of the favorite booths at the carnival, provided the students a perfect opportunity to dampen a few spirits.

What would Homecoming be without food, frolic, and friends? The food, provided by Slater and the Greeks, the frolic inspired by the mood and no Saturday classes, and the friends imported, or from AC — all these helped to make the 1965 Austin College Homecoming the success that it was.

Beginning the festivities was the traditional bonfire built by the Freshman Class, followed by the Carnival on Friday night. On Saturday the football game and the exes luncheon added to the gaiety which climaxed on Saturday night with the formal dance.

With a young lady on each arm, Davis Price wanders through the carnival taking in all the sights.

The Betas, with their appeal to the younger set, add zest to the Carnival.

Exes, Victory to AC Campus

One of the prime figures in the "Viet Nam" of AC is Freddie Krieg. Acting as a Cong, Freddie, along with the other Pi Chis, "fought" the masses.

Monte Carlo was brought to AC by the Chi Delts for carnival night. Lewis Quigg and Pat Stout invite all in to enjoy the mood.

The Kappas provided the traditional Kappa Kake Walk with musical chairs, with the winner always receiving a cake.

Greeks Entertain, Feed

Ron Walden, barker, and Don Anderson, assistant-to-the-barker, represent the Tri-Gams in the Bing a Go-Go booth.

To keep the tradition set years ago at AC, the fraternities and sororities participate in providing booths for Homecoming. Each fraternity and sorority is responsible for a booth in which they may make money as well as entertain.

The carnival is an integral part of the Homecoming activities and is enjoyed by all who attend and by all who provide entertainment. Everything from games, to food, to play are provided by the Greeks.

Theta Phi Delta sorority provided their Mug & Jug, offering entertainment, hot chocolate, and popcorn — treats sought after by all.

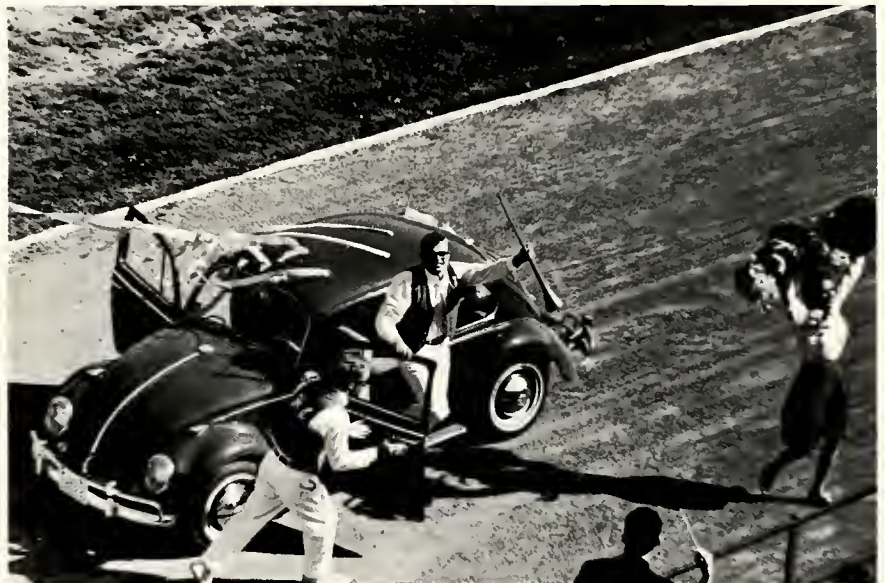

Providing their usual wit and humor, the Sigma Taus enact the "Loser's Day Convocation."

The Homecoming activities got off to a roaring start with the bonfire on Friday.

Bonfire Blazes Beginning

Arriving at the game full of enthusiasm, the cheerleaders pile out of their car with horns and pom-poms in hand.

In somewhat of a hurry to leave the field, the Band oozes off with the usual AC dignity.

Halftime Activities

As part of the halftime activities, candidate Mary Helen Neal rides around the track.

Awaiting the announcement of the new queen, the candidates, Barbara Alexander, Natalie Bencowitz, Teresa Floyd, Mary Helen Neal, Susan Park, and Marny Robertson, listen to Bill Peteet.

Impress Large Crowd

Performing at half-time for the entertainment of the exes, the parents, and the student body, the drill team made its first appearance of the year.

With the marching band, the drill team, and the new Homecoming Queen, the AC-Sewanee football game really was a memorable one for the Kangaroos. The exes were welcomed, the Wimps were adopted as Freshmen and the student body rallied with the greatest school spirit ever.

Special credit goes to Ann Gleichert and Sharon Greenlin, leaders of the drill team, and to Mr. Robertson, band director.

Miss Raye Thraillkill, feature twirler for the AC Band, made her debut at Homecoming.

Paying tribute to the true meaning and purpose of Austin College, the band forms the perfect symbol — the $ sign.

Dean Hall, Moody Science Dedicated

At the formal dedication of the Moody Science Center, Mrs. Mary Moody Northen tells of her satisfaction with the new building.

The dedication of two new buildings on the campus symbolized the progress of AC. The new Moody Science Center was opened to the excitement of all, but particularly to the delight of the science departments.

The much needed men's residence hall was dedicated by the Dean brothers in memory of their father.

The new Athletic Hall of Honor was established to recognize those alumni who had excelled in athletics and brought honor to AC.

Larry Sykes, president of Dean Hall, residence hall for men, stands with the Dean brothers during the open house and dedication.

One of the activities in October was establishment of the AC Athletic Hall of Honor. Pictured here with the plaque are members of the committee.

Varied Activities Highlight Fall

An egg throw, a faculty pep rally, Kappa Kapers, pre-registration provide busy students with still more activities.

This demonstrates almost everyone's feelings as they miss their egg at the Dean Hall Egg Throw.

Four spirited Hoppers lead the student body at the annual Faculty Pep Rally.

Another annual event was the Kapers presented by the Kappa Gamma Chi Sorority. This year the girls displayed their talents around the theme of "Part of the Art of Eve."

Fall Moves Forward with Play, Forum

Dimitrios Papadopoulos, as a young lover who refuses to settle down with one lady, is involved with several in "The Affairs of Anatol."

The ladies are Jane Ross, Sharon Greenlin, and Barbara Finnegan. Joe Proctor plays Anatol's best friend and confidant.

November brought a time for relaxing from papers, tests, and study in the form of the Fall Theater Production, and a Thanksgiving vacation.

A cry for greater understanding between the administration and students was answered in part through forums. At these forums students and faculty were allowed to ask questions concerning the new and old administrative policies. These forums were led by both students and members of the faculty and administration.

At a forum held to discuss and explain the new policy on group behavior, Miss Virginia Kinloch is answering an important question. Miss Marian Laines, Mr. Don Wright, and Mr. Scooter Merritt look on.

December Brings Really Christmas Party

As Christmas drew near, the students at AC became more aware of the suffering and poverty of others. In an attempt to raise money to bring Christmas to the children of Princeton, Texas, a Really Christmas Party was held. Contributions were also made to help buy shoes for the orphaned boys of Korea.

Dr. David Reagan received his Santa Claus Award from Santa, who seems to have his mind on smaller matters.

Master of Ceremonies Ed (Barney Fife) Sullivan invites the attention of all to the "really big" acts of the Really Christmas Party.

To show their Christmas spirit, the Clyce Hall girls put up their tree.

Music, Mirth Manifest Merry Month

While everyone enjoyed the sundaes provided by Slater after the Christmas Party, the Thetas lead Christmas carols.

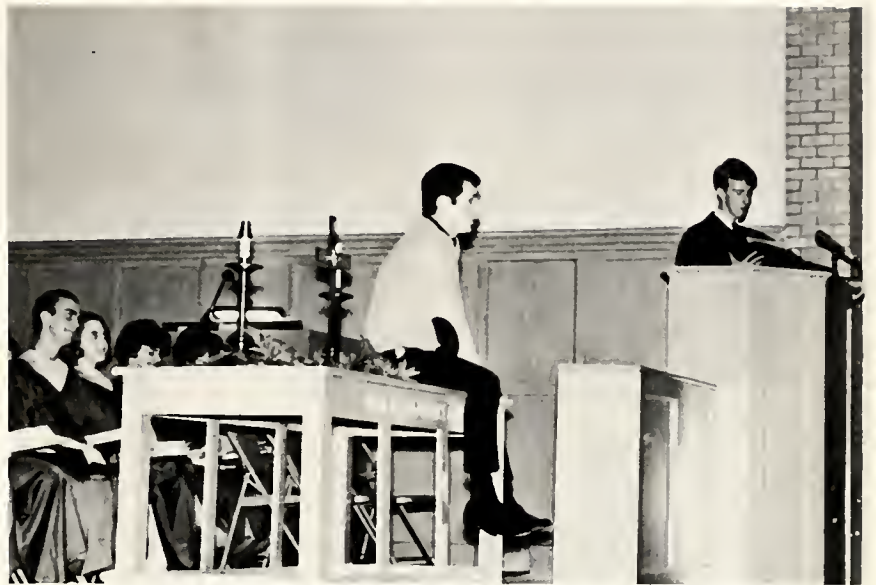

"O, Holy Night," sung by George Livings, ended the Really Christmas Party, leaving the students and faculty in a peaceful Christmas Spirit.

Christmas Brings Santas, Fun

Santa Clauses, not one, but three, came to campus this Christmas. But that's not all that was here. There was a special Christmas program written by Emory Glover, class of '62; a band concert, a Chapel Choir concert, and an A Cappella Choir concert.

Everywhere there were parties. President and Mrs. J. D. Moseley were "at home," which enabled the students and the faculty to enjoy Christmas together. Dorms had parties to decorate their trees; clubs had Christmas parties. Everywhere the season was celebrated until the students left for home. Then there was nothing but an empty campus.

George Livings perches on a "nearby table" during the special Christmas program presented in chapel. The program by Emory Glover presented the sacred and the secular of Christmas.

Austin College, the "Harvard on the Red," was fortunate enough to have a visit from Santa. But wait! Will the real Santa please stand up?

The Brass and Woodwind Ensembles under the direction of Mr. David Robertson performed in the annual Christmas concert in Wynne Chapel for the pleasure of all.

Cramming, Snacks Symbolize

The Really Christmas Party provided Santa Claus that longed-for opportunity to thank all those persons who have been such a help to AC.

Christmastime meant many things to many people: a time for true Christian fellowship, a time for relaxation, a time for peace. To others it meant a time to bring to the attention of the AC community through plays and skits that Christmas is a time to give out of love.

Following Christmas, however, came the most dreaded of all times — finals. To study became the purpose of the AC student. Slater and the library provided luxuries such as good snacks and extra privileges, in order to ease the students' "week of torture."

Christ in the Concrete City, as presented by the Westminster players, reminded the campus of the true meaning of Christmas.

Final Week at AC

Putting forth the "old college try," Jerry Bell shows the position of most AC students—with his nose buried in books.

In order to ease the treachery of cramming, many students spend spare minutes in the SUB, seeking refuge in cokes and bridge games.

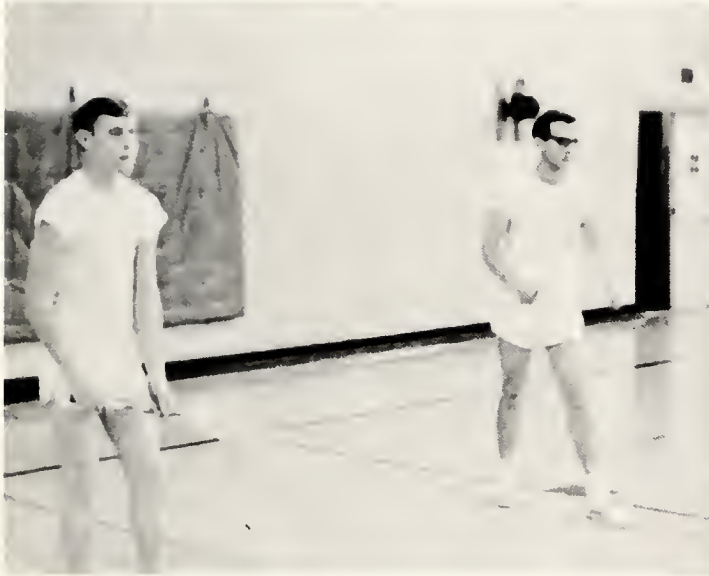

Even meals don't count as Tom White and Gretta Freidel prove as they study while waiting for the supper line to open.

"I'd rather fight than switch," spouts Kitty Townsend.

New Semester Brings Snow,

Adding to the confusion of the new semester is the drop-and-add weeks of bedlam. Ann Cooper explains her predicament to Mr. Lunkley, Steve McAdoo, and Ed Mattheissen.

Badminton became one of the tasks for sophomores Palmer Wigby and David Smith in the second semester.

January, 1966, will long be remembered as the month of snow—the first for many.

With the new semester many of the students had the time to play either in the snow or in the SUB, go to campus movies, join the ZORRO fan club, participate in intramurals, and become a BATMAN fan.

"A little snow never hurt anyone" seems to be the philosophy of Rick Wood, as he and a cohort play in the snow.

More Zorro, More Batman

"The Son of Faust Revisited," as brought to AC by the Pi Chi's, made the community realize the advantage of "gregarious milk drinkers."

Rush Week, Pledgeship and Rain

With spirits as damp as the weather, Clyce girls hurry in from the rain.

Reading the lines in the play together is the first step in giving a play production learned by a freshman English class as they experiment in drama.

One of the outstanding activities at AC this spring was the planning and conducting of a Foreign Policy Conference. George Rustay, center, planned the conference with the help of the ACSA Student Service Agency. Dr. James R. Roache, right, was the keynote speaker and panel resource man. Besides a speech by Dr. Roache, there was a panel discussion concerning Viet Nam. Dr. F. B. Eutsler, left, served as a member on this panel.

One of the most familiar sights found around the SUB is Mr. Doyal Kirby, supervisor of the SUB and a favorite among AC students.

Introduce Spring to Austin College

As Rush snow turned into pledge slush, the AC campus began showing signs of new life: trees and grass turned green, flowers blossomed and rain fell.

With the spring came trips to the lake, intramural softball, picnics, parties, and love. It was a time for day dreams followed by the planning and hard work to make these dreams come true. Spring was a time for extra workouts, extra research and extra fun—and it was a time to revel in the excitement of a year well-lived.

With spring came green grass and outside activities. Students took advantage of the big trees by sitting in and under them.

"The Language We Speak" was the title of an interesting and enjoyable Celebrity Series lecture given by Dr. Bergen Evans, noted teacher, lecturer, and author.

Participation in the Rush Week open teas, Mary Lou Cassidy and Beth Rennels smile their delight with the week of snow and compliments that yield close friendships.

A time for work
and
A time for unity

Emily Coe

You would know the secret of death.

But how shall you find it unless you seek it in the heart of life? . . .

. . . For life and death are one, even as the river and the sea are one . . .

. . . For what is to die but to stand naked in the wind and to melt into the sun?

And what is it to cease breathing, but to free the breath from its restless tides, that it may rise and expand and seek God unencumbered?

Only when you drink from the river of silence shall you indeed sing.

And when you have reached the mountain top,
then you shall begin to climb.

And when the earth shall claim your limbs, then you shall truly dance.

1965-66 was an interesting and eventful year. My only hope is that this book, which is the product of much hard work, much disagreement, much compromise, much fun, and much meaning, will be a meaningful record of this year.

I would also like to express my gratitude to all those who helped and who cooperated in the making of this book.
